

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS: BEST EUROPEAN FICTION 2016

Dalkey Archive is now accepting submissions of recent or forthcoming European short stories and stand-alone novel extracts for Best European Fiction 2016. We are looking for translations from all the countries that represent Greater Europe. We are interested in finding the best work from the Balkans, excellent writing from Albania, from the Basque region, Ukraine, Belarus, and Liechtenstein, work translated from Gaelic, Catalan, Welsh, Romansch, Greek, Flemish, Hungarian, and all other European languages.

Submissions should be recently published in their original language (preferably within the last 5 years), and should not have been previously published in English translation.

Submissions should be between 2,000 and 8,000 words long.

Translators may make up to three submissions per language.

Please do not submit work by authors who have already appeared in the anthology.

Please send submissions in Word format to BEF@dalkeyarchive.com

Submissions deadline: 15 August 2014

Forthcoming in November 2014: *Best European Fiction 2015

- Preface by Enrique Vila-Matas
- Stories from more than 30 countries, from Slovenia and Estonia to Armenia and Georgia
- Contributors include Pedro Lenz, Joanna Walsh, Vedrana Rudan, and Edy Poppy
- Readings and events in London, Dublin, New York, Brussels and Washington DC
- Widespread media coverage in the US, UK and Ireland

Editorial contact: camel@dalkeyarchive.com

www.dalkeyarchive.com